FUND MANAGER'S COMMENTS

- The Global Islamic Index fell in October, amid growing uncertainty surrounding central banks' policy stance and the outcome of the US presidential election.
- Early on, markets were rattled by Deutsche Bank's battle against mis-selling allegations and UK Prime Minister Theresa May's announcement of a hard deadline to begin formal negotiations to exit the EU, which sent sterling tumbling to a 31-year low.
- Elsewhere, third-quarter economic data was mixed, with healthy growth in the US and a rebound in Eurozone business activity juxtaposed against flat figures in China and disappointing output numbers from Japan. A series of lukewarm corporate earnings also dampened risk appetite.
- In October, we introduced Japanese snacks business Calbee, which boasts established brands that have generated attractive returns historically and opportunities for expansion in the US and China.
