FUND MANAGER'S COMMENTS

The Fund's performance for the month of Jun rose by 0.26%. Nevertheless, the fund underperformed the benchmark by 0.57%.

In June, the FBM Kuala Lumpur Composite Index (the "Index") shrugged off the Brexit vote, rising 1.73% m-o-m to 1,654 points, partly due to mid-year window dressing activities. Year-to-date, the Index is still down 2.27%. Post-Brexit, the resulting flight to safety has caused global government bond yields to collapse, signaling deflationary growth concerns. In the US, the likelihood of a rate hike this year has fallen significantly. On the local front, Barisan Nasional's two by-election victories fuelled speculation of early elections.

Stock picking remains key to alpha generation and we remain selective; we continue to like high dividend yielders such as REITs, conglomerates and utilities. We also continue to maintain our overweight in the construction sector. From a research perspective, we seek ideas in e-commerce/logistics that will benefit from rising demand from e-commerce. We also continue to seek bombed out growth stocks at reasonable price (GARP) in the plantations and oil and gas sectors.

For fixed income, the Malaysian Government Securities ("MGS") saw bond yields tightening as concerns of Brexit and its implications triggered a flight to safety for investors. U.S weak non-farm payroll data coupled with Brexit has wiped out the possibility of a U.S Fed rate hike in July resulting in the strengthening of the Ringgit. The MGS curve shifted lower throughout the curve in June. Trading volume for corporate bonds decreased slightly in June with trades centred on GGs, AAAs and AAs. The easing policy stance by the global central banks and potentially BNM should be supportive of sovereign yields. The corporate bond market is expected to be well supported in the near term due to the lack of supply in the primary pipeline and the ample liquidity of local institutional players. We will focus on both corporate bond primary and repriced secondary issuances especially the AA rated issuances for yield pick-up.
