FUND MANAGER'S COMMENTS

The Fund's performance for the month of September 2015 was 0.21% as compared to its benchmark of 0.28%.

The Malaysian Government Securities ("MGS") rallied in September 2015 due to improved buying interest after the sell off last month as yields became attractive. Trading volume for corporate bonds slowed down by 22.4% in September 2015 with RM5.23billion traded, down from RM6.74billion in the previous month. Trades were mostly centred on the AAAs and AAs space.

Due to slow global growth, the Malaysian economy is expected to continue to be challenging. Thus, barring any growth shocks, we expect Bank Negara Malaysia ("BNM") to keep the Overnight Price Rate ("OPR") unchanged at 3.25% for the rest of 2015. The Federal Reserve's ("Fed") decision to postpone its rate hike is also expected to fuel further volatility in the global. As such, emerging markets sovereign yields will continue to be choppy and may trend higher when the Fed starts to hike. Nonetheless, the domestic institutional investors are expected to continue supporting the market should there be a massive sell-off. For corporate bonds, credit yields may also trend higher as sovereign yields rise.

We continue to keep duration short and buy into opportunity for high yield as a buffer for the volatility. We aim to switch into repriced bonds from the primary or secondary issuances.

Disclaimer:

The benchmark performance is not a guide to future performances which may differ. The performance of the fund is not guaranteed. The value of the fund will fluctuate and may fall below the amount of premiums paid and the fund value depends on the actual performance on the underlying investment.

Any income distribution from the underlying assets of the investment-linked fund will be automatically reinvested into the respective investment-linked fund. The policy owner's total number of units will not change as a result of the reinvestment.
