FUND MANAGER'S COMMENTS

In January, the Fund fell 1.11% outperforming the benchmark by 0.06ppt as the Islamic Index fell 2.6% during the month with the broad-based selloff led by South Korea and Australia while Philippines and Indonesia posted positive returns.

The higher inflation print across many countries and resultant higher bond yields have reset the investment appetite for investors to the side of caution. With the US Fed's commentary sounding more hawkish, the market expectations implied by Fed Funds Futures is now pricing 5 rate hikes for 2022. The trajectory of bond yields from here-on would be a key indicator of any reversion in investor appetite.

In China, after the reduction in reserve requirement ratio and loan prime rate in December, the PBOC continued to lower its loan prime rate again in January by 10bps and also introduced targeted measures for property developers whereby debt accrued from acquiring distressed assets are excluded from compliance with the 'three red lines'.

Our view is that peak regulatory risk in China has passed. We are fully invested and plan to diversify our holdings across businesses to improve our portfolio's resilience. Our recent purchases were in the areas of med-tech, new energy vehicle supply chain, cement and energy. We funded these purchases by trimming selected stocks where growth durability is lacking and where valuations are lofty. Off-benchmark stocks contribute ~40% to our holdings.

RISKS

All investment carries some form of risks. The potential key risks include but are not limited to the following:

Market risk	Market risk refers to the possibility that an investment will lose value because of a general decline in financial markets, due to economic, political and/or other factors, which will result in a decline in the target fund's NAV.
Inflation risk	This is the risk that your investment in the target fund may not grow or generate income at a rate that keeps pace with inflation. This would reduce your purchasing power even though the value of the investment in monetary terms has increased.
Manager's risk	This risk refers to the day-to-day management of the target fund by the manager which will impact the performance of the fund. For example, investment decisions undertaken by Principal, as a result of an incorrect view of the market or any non-compliance with internal policies, investment mandate, the deed, relevant law or guidelines due to factors such as human error or weaknesses in operational process and systems, may adversely affect the performance of the target fund.
Reclassification of Shariah status risk	This risk refers to the risk that the currently held Shariah-compliant securities in the target fund may be reclassified as Shariah non-compliant in the periodic review of the securities by the Shariah Advisory Council of the Securities Commission Malaysia (SACSC), Shariah adviser of the issuer, the Shariah Adviser or the Shariah boards of the relevant Islamic indices. If this occurs, Principal will take the necessary steps to dispose of such securities. There may be opportunity loss to the target fund due to the target fund not being allowed to retain the excess gains derived from the disposal of the Shariah non-compliant securities. In the event that the Shariah non-compliant securities are disposed of at a price lower than the investment cost, it may adversely affect the value of the target fund. Thus, it may cause the NAV of the target fund or price of units to fall.
Risk associated with investing in Islamic CIS	Since the target fund will invest entirely into Islamic CIS, there is a risk of concentration into Islamic CIS, in which the Islamic CIS's management company has absolute discretion over the Islamic CIS's investment technique and knowledge, operational controls and management. In the event of mismanagement of the Islamic CIS and/or the management company, the NAV of the target fund, which invests into those Islamic CIS would be affected negatively. Should the situation arise, Principal will seek for another Islamic CIS that is consistent with the objective of the target fund.
Country risk	The target fund may invest into Islamic CIS which can be domiciled in various countries. Therefore, the target fund will be subjected to risks specific to the countries in which the Islamic CIS are domiciled. Such risks include adverse changes in economic fundamentals, social and political stability, laws and regulations and foreign investments policies. These factors may have an adverse impact on the price of the Islamic CIS, which will depress the Islamic CIS's NAV growth, and consequently depress the target fund's NAV growth.

RISKS

Currency risk

As the target fund may invest into Islamic CIS denominated in currencies other than MYR, any fluctuation in the exchange rate between MYR and the currencies in which the Islamic CIS are denominated may have an impact on the value of these investments. You should note that any gains or losses arising from the fluctuation in the exchange rate may further increase or decrease the returns of the target fund.
