FUND MANAGER'S COMMENTS

In May, the Fund rose 1.77%, outperforming the Benchmark by 157 basis points (bps). Year-to-date, the Fund declined 0.96%, outperforming the Benchmark by 85 bps. A US domiciled company with significant Asia exposure and Australia contributed positively while China was a mild detractor. In sector terms, Consumer Goods and Technology contributed positively while Oil and Gas and Consumer Services were detractors.

Islamic Asian ex-Japan equities declined 1% (US$) in May on concerns about a stronger US$ and political turmoil in Italy where the new coalition government Five Star-League could be at odds with the EU with regards to fiscal policies. Oil price rose throughout the month with Venezuelan elections prompting potential sanctions by the US, but receded after reports that US requested OPEC to raise supply.

The Fund is ~93% invested with portfolio beta of ~1 and Overweight in Information Technology, Energy, Consumer Staples and Underweight Real Estate, Telecommunications and Utilities. We have recently added selective industrials (transport) and telecom with turnaround in fundamentals. The areas of investment with the most favorable outlook are Technology companies with scale, Gaming and Consumer Discretionary names with a strong premium brands. We also see opportunities in selective ASEAN companies whose operations have been challenging previously but are now showing signs of turnaround.
