FUND MANAGER'S COMMENTS

The Fund gained 0.50% during the month of May 2017, underperforming the benchmark which increased 1.39%. Stock selection in the underlying Europe funds contributed negatively. YTD, the Fund gained 5.23% while the benchmark gained 5.98%.

Risk-assets grinded higher through the month. Macro-economic data remained broadly supportive, global corporate earnings releases for 1Q17 were ahead of estimates, financial conditions remained benign and fund flows were positive (especially for Asian, Emerging and European equities). There was, as usual, some noise surrounding Donald Trump, his ongoing war with ex-FBI head Comey relating to his family's dealings with Russia but markets shrugged them off. Europe took the lead in equities due to reduced political risks as Macron secured a comfortable victory in French presidential elections. Japan registered positive returns on the back of strong corporate earnings season and positive economic data.

The Fund is moderately underweight in the US market and slightly overweight in Europe and Japan.
