FUND MANAGER'S COMMENTS

In April 2016, the Fund was downed 0.66%, underperforming the benchmark by 0.43%. We are overweight in Hong Kong, Indonesia and Philippines, and underweight in China, Korea and Malaysia. Sector-wise, we are overweight in Telecommunications, Financials and Consumer Services and underweight in Oil & Gas, Technology, Industrials, Basic Materials and Utilities. Year-to-date, the Fund was downed 8.62%, underperforming the benchmark by 2.15%.

Asian equity markets ended a flat month in April 2016 with concerns over the Bank of Japan's ability to stimulate the economy, and the sustainability of China's economic rebound in the face of a spiralling debt burden. Following a strong 'risk-on' rally in March 2016, the market rally appears to have petered out. We have a neutral view of Asian Equities and expect markets to remain range-bound, limited by lack of earnings and fear of deflation, but supported by central banks' market friendly interventions.

Our research efforts continue to be on companies and sectors with above-market growth rates, such as those which would benefit from the new economic structure such as internet, fintech, robotics and automation. We also favour interest-rate sensitive stocks in Asia, as Central banks in Asia have the option of cutting interest rates to boost growth, as well as companies that could benefit from roll-out of infrastructure spending.
