FUND MANAGER'S COMMENTS

- Global equities edged lower in US dollar terms in November, but rose in sterling, euro and yen terms, as the likelihood of a US Federal Reserve interest rate hike grew amid a more upbeat employment outlook.
- The European Central Bank signalled more stimulus, as the region's growth prospects dimmed and inflation remained below the 2% target.
- Meanwhile, Chinese regulators re-opened the IPO tap for A-shares after a five-month hiatus, and the renminbi was admitted into the IMF's global reserve basket, in a major vote of confidence for Beijing's economic reforms.
- In November, we added to UK-based Vodafone, as we believe the telco's management has shown a commitment to maintaining shareholder value.
